HAMBURG, BREMEN AGAIN OBJECTIVES OF RAF RAIDING BOMBERS

THIRD HAMMERING GREAT GERMAN PORTS BY AIR IN LAST FOUR NIGHTS

LONDON, May 12.—(AP)—British pilots, trading steel for steel and fire for fire with the Nazis, beat at the German ports of Hamburg and Bremen again last night in a mighty bombing attack officially declared to have left vast areas of flaming destruction.

It was Hamburg that was at the focus of these new assaults, said the air ministry, and a "disorganization of vital parts" of that biggest of German harbors was claimed.

Shipbuilding yards nine miles in length, which line the banks of the River Eloe, were threaded and crossed with British fire, said the air ministry, and high explosive and incendiary bombs fell heavily in all that section.

Among the objectives hit, the British said, were the Blahm and Voss shipyards — where German capital ships were laid down in the last great war.

All this was accomplished abroad at the same time that the British defenders at home—night fighters and anti-aircraft guns—were shooting down eight more Nazi raiders during widespread attacks upon the islands.

It was the third hammering in four nights for the great German ports. Targets Thursday night of the biggest British raid of the war he two cities took it again Saturday night. British said an armada of 100 planes belted Hamburg with Britains' new superbombs, causing destruction in shipyards and industrial plants there.

The same objectives were targets again last night, the air ministry said, and "a heavy weight" of bombs was dropped on both in very good weather.

"Many large fires were started and left burning," a communique said.

Four Bombers Lost.

Four British bombers were reported shot down in the night's operations, which included attacks on Emden, the docks at Rotterdam, Ijmuiden, The Netherlands and a seaplane base on the island of Texel, The Netherlands.

German warplanes, returning after giving London one of its hardest poundings Saturday night, caused three alerts last night and this morning in the capital, but the government, although acknowledging "very widespread" activity, said damage was not heavy, nor the number of casualties large.

(The Germans said "several hundred" wasplanes participated in attacks on Central and Southern England, with airports used by RAF bombers as the main objectives. These sources also said damage was done to several residential sections of the North German coastal cities attacked last night by the RAF.

The bag of night raiders, added to the 33 reported destroyed Saturday night during the deadly reprisal raid on the capital, brought the total of night bombers shot down thus far in May to 132, the British said. The highest record for a full previous month was 90 in April.

SENATOR WHEELER TAKE UP CUDGELS TO SAVE IRELAND

CHARGES ADMINISTRATION SEEKING TO MAKE IRELAND A SECOND YUGOSLAVIA

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(AP)—Senator Wheeler (Dem.) of Montana, charged today that the administration "apparently" was seeking to make Ireland a second Yugoslavia and force her into war, promising supplies that could not be delivered.

An outspoken foe of administration foreign policy, Wheeler told reporters that this country "should not bring pressure on Eire or any other country to get them into war.

"Now, apparently, we are trying to repeat in Ireland what he did to Yugoslovia. In the latter case we promised goods we could not deliver.

"Apparently, the administration is trying to bring pressure upon the Irish to get them into war or to force them to give up some of their territory to the British."

Wheeler mentioned that Eire had been seeking food and military supplies here and said that "although we are talking of helping democracies, my understanding is that representatives of Ireland have been given the run-around."

The Montanan did not amplify his assertion that attempts were being made to have Eire yield territory to Britain. The belief was, however, that he referred to long-

Hess, Slated As Hitler Successor, Reported Missing

BERLIN, May 12.—(AP)—Rudolf Hess, Adolf Hitler's designated second choice for his political heir, is presumed to have crashed at the controls of his own plane—feared to have been "the victim of hallucinations," the Nazi party announced tonight.

He has been missing since Saturday when he took off from Augsberg in the plane he had acquired contrary to the orders of Hitler, whose deputy for party affairs he was.

He left behind a letter, the contents of which "unfortunately show in its confusion the traces of mental disorder which led to fears that party comrade Hess was a victim of hallucinations."

Arrest of Hess adjutants who permitted the flight was reported ordered by the fuehrer.

After Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Hess was Hitler's choice for the succession to reichsfuehrer in the event of Hitlers death.

This is the Nazi party's announcement:

"Party comrade Hess, who because of his failing health for years has been strictly forbidden by the fuehrer to be active in aviation, was able, contrary to these instructions, to acquire an airplane again recently.

"On Saturday, May 10, at about 6 p. m., party member Hess started on a flight at Augsburg from which he has not returned to this day.

"A letter left behind unfortunately shows in its confusion the traces of mental disorder which led to fears that party fellow member Hess was a victim of hallucinations.

"The fuehrer immediately ordered the arrest of adjutants of party comrade Hess who alone knew about those flights and did not hinder them, and did not report

SPRING MANEUVERS OPENED IN HAWAII BY ARMY MONDAY

MIGHTIEST MILITARY FORCE EVER ASSEMBLED IN ISLANDS TO TAKE PART

HONOLULU, May 12.—(AP)—The mightiest military force ever assembled in Hawaii, itself the strongest fortress under the United States flag and perhaps in the world, today opened the army's 1941 spring maneuvers.

Approximately 40,000 soldiers, the majority seasoned troops, will be deployed to demonstrate and test the defenses of this Pacific bastion.

"It has been assumed," said a statement from the army command "that the United States is facing attacks by enemy powers in both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans and that hostile naval craft are known to be operating in the Hawaiian area."

This infirmation was released by Lieut-Gen. Walter C. Short, Hawaiian department commander, shortly after midnight, and troop activity followed almost immediately.

From Schofield barracks, Fort Shafter and Fort Armstrong, the most modern military equipment streamed forth in long convoys to the defense of Aahu Island.

Hickman Field, reportedly the army's largest air base, sent its great planes roaring in undisclosed number; Wheeler Field dispatched its swiftest pursuit ships; all outlying islands made ready to receive planes so there would be no large bombable concentrations of aircraft anywhere.

The maneuvers will incorporate the latest twists of strategy gathered from the war fronts of Europe and China, including the use of parachute troops.

To meet the threat of enemy bombers and the fire of enemy warships, the territory's large concentration of anti-aircraft weapons and the 16-inch guns of its ports

BRITAIN'S MIDDLE EAST FORCES FIGHT ON LAND AND IN AIR

FORCES OF BRITAIN CLOSING IN ON 38,000 ITALIANS HOLDING FORTRESS

CAIRO, Egypt, May 12.—(AP)—British forces closing in on 38,000 Italians holding Amba Alaji fortress, perched at an altitude of 9,000 feet in northern Ethiopia, have occupied the nearby stronghold of Gumsa, the Middle East command announced today.

Things picked up on the North African front over the weekend, the British command announced, with imperial forces at Tobruk capturing 32 Axis prisoners and inflicting casualties in a surprsie raid. In the Salum sector, 80 miles father east on the Egyptian border, the British reported capture of an axis tank in continuing harrassing raids on the German and Italia positions.

Following the capture of Rutba, station on the Iraq oil line, the communique said the situation had quieted down there. Action at Habbaniyah airdrome, 60 miles west of Baghdad and at Basra, on the Persian gulf, was said to have been lacking for several days.

On other middle East and Mediterranean fronts the British announced weekend RAF raids on Sicily and across North Africa

British planes roared by daylight from Salum to Tripoli, yesterday over Sicily, aiming for landing fields from which German planes have attacked British shipping in the Mediterranean.

A communique declared heavy damage was caused at bomber nests at Catania and Comiso where RAF pilots were said to have machine-gunned officers and soldiers fleeing for shelter.

The RAF brought week-end raids on axis bases at Derna, Jedabaya and El Gazala, Libya, to a climax last night with a heavy attack on Tripoli, Italy's big North African port from which the axis counter-drive into Egypt was sprung.

Bomb hits on the power station were reported, along with destruction and fires on the waterfront.

In Ethiopia, Indian troops advancing toward the Italian stronghold at Amba Alaji and a column pushing up from the south were said to have caught approximately 38,000 Fascists in a trap from which the British said there could be no escape.

On the Iraq front, the British announcement of the fall of the fort

LEGISLATORS GET REDUCTION IN PAY AFTER TOMORROW

CUT OF FIFTY PERCENT IN SALARY MAY HASTEN ACTION ON PLAN FOR RECESS

AUSTIN, May 12.—(AP)—The legislature gets a pay cut this week.

The reduction from $10 to $5 daily after Tuesday, the 120th day of the general session, might hasten action on recess proposal pending in the senate.

The house has voted to quit work temporarily June 2 and return to Austin July 15. Snate concurrence in this proposal is necessary.

Normally the lawmakers adjourn several days after the 120-day mark, the length of a general session suggested by the constitution which also halves the pay of members after that milepost is passed.

Important work remains to be done, however, and an immediate adjurnment or recess is out of the question.

LABOR FEDERATION WORKERS AT NAVAL DRYDOCK ON STRIKE

STRIKE INVOLVING 160,000 MEN AGAINST GMC PLANTS SET FOR THURSDAY

By the Associated Press.

More than 900 American Federation of Labor skilled craftsmen struck today at the big navy drydock at South Beston, Mass., tying up a $3,000,000 defense construction job.

Spokesmen for the union said the walkout halted work on facilities under a $30,000,000 program, now about half through, but said it did not stop ship building activities since 300 men working in the navy yard were not called out at once.

E. A. Johnson, secretary-treasurer of the building construction trades council, said the strike was called as a protest to hiring of 1,200 WPA and civil service workers at the base. He added that the union would call out the 300 men at the navy yard "in the event of no settlement in this existing dispute."

The CIO United Automobile Workers Union set 7 a. m. Thursday for a strike against General Motors Corporation on its sixty plants, employing 160,000 workers, as negotiations to avert the walkout were set for resumption tomorrow before a defense mediation board panel in Washington. Union officials said workers engaged on defense production would not be called out, but corporation officials insisted that defense contracts amounting to $700,000,000, could not be segregated from non-defense production.

Hudson Strike Order.

United Automobile Workers officials also conferred at Detroit with officials of Hudson Motor Company, trying to settle a wage dispute which caused the union to issue a strike order for 11 o'clock tomorrow.

The union has demanded a 10-cent hourly wage increase from General Motors, and the company has offered a two-cent basic increase with boosts of three to five cents for certain skilled workers. The company contends its hourly pay averages slightly more than $1 and is the highest in the motor car industry. From the Hudson Company the CIO men want a 15-cent an hour increase, but neither the company nor union has revealed the present rate.

Another development on the labor front was a two-to-one ruling by the United States Court of Appeals

The audience was unusually long.

GERMAN LUFTWAFFE POUNDED AT BRITISH AIRPORTS LAST NIGHT

ADMITTED STRONG RAF FORCES BLASTED HAMBURG AND BREMEN

BERLIN, May 12.—(AP)—The nazi luftwaffe, out to spike the increasingly heavy RAF raids on Germany, pounded 20 British airports last night, including many from which long-range craft take off, the Germans reported today.

But while these raids were in progress the high command admitted that "stronger" RAF formations were back over Germany, again heavily assaulting Hamburg and Bremen.

Dead and wounded and "some damage" were inflicted at bith Breben and Hamburg. The latter, Germany's biggest seaport, underwent its second major pummeling in as many nights.

Several hundred German planes were said to have participated in the nazi raids on the English air bases. The attacks were called widespread, but not particularly concentrated.

The pilots sought especially the airports from which RAF long-distance bombers have been starting their raids on Germany.

Moderate air activity against shipping in British waters also was reported, and several Welsh ports were declared to have been subjected to bombardment.

The airporas bombed were in Southern, Central and Southeastern England.

There also were several industrial targets.

LEGISLATURE HAS CALENDARS CLEAR OF MAJOR MATTERS

BOTH BRANCHES TAKE UP MISCELLANEOUS PROPOSALS AS NEW WEEK OPENS

AUSTIN, May 12.—(AP)—With many major issues cleared from calendars, both branches of the legislature today delved into a miscellany of proposals with varied results.

House concurrence in senate amendments sent to the governor a bill permitting state supported colleges to retain $5 from each student's semester fees to create a building fund.

The lower chamber heard Speaker Homer Leonard name a special committee to investigate conditions in eleemosynary institutions, an outgrowth of a recent message from Governor W. Lee O'Daniel who said the board of control had received many complaints of beatings, torture and even death in the vast institutional system.

Leonard named Rep. M. A. Bundy of Wichita Falls chairman. Other members were Reps. McGlasson of Waco, Jack Ridgeway of San

LEGISLATION FOR TAKING OVER SHIPS IS GIVEN APPROVAL

SENATE COMMITTEE WOULD AUTHORIZE ACQUISITION OF IDLE FOREIGN SHIPS

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(AP)—Legislation authorizing the government to take over foreign ships lying idle in American harbors was approved by the senate commerce committee today, 11 to 4.

Prior to the final ballot the committee rejected 10 to 6 an effort by Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich) and Clark (D-Mo) to prevent the government from taking a vessel owned by one belligerent nation, or its nationals—Italy, for example—and turning it over to another belligerest—Britain. This proposal was expected to be pressed again on the senate floor when debate starts, probably late this week.

The committee wrote an amendment into the house-approved legislation to forbid the government from taking over any vessel actually owned by a foreign country, except by purchase.

Chairman Bailey (D-NC) of the committee said that none of the foreign ships now lying idle in American harbors actually was owned by a foreign government. He said they all are the property of the nationals of foreign countries.

Amendments Approved.

The committee also approved amendments to'

1. Nulify any transfers of ships made within 60 days of the president's message recommending the ship legislation. Bailey said this provision was designed to prevent transfers in anticipation of enactment of the pending legislation.

2. Provide for "equitable treatment" of alien sailors who are deprived of employment when this government takes over foreign vessels.

Bailey declared that there were 84 foreign flat vessels in Am-

FAMED BUILDINGS IN LONDON SMASHED BY GERMAN RAIDERS

WESTMINSTER ABBEY, BRITISH MUSEUM AND WESTMINSTER HALL ALL DAMAGED

By RUSSELL C LANDSTROM

LONDON, May 12.—(AP)—Arthur Greenwood, minister without portfolio whose job is to rebuild battered Britain after the war, surveyed wreckage today in the house of commons, which only four days ago was a thronged debating chamber.

Standing beside a teetering wall, Greenwood observed rubble, charred wood and masonry piled fifty feet high where pillars once soared to the vaulted roof and where oaken panels and tall windows once had graced the galleries.

"This too will come within my province and I must think about its reconstruction," he sadly remarked.

Among the thousands of bombs which rained from the moon-lit skies Saturday night were those which unroofed Westminster Abbey, damaged the British museum and Big Ben, the giant clock, and storied Westminster Hall.

Whole blocks of the sprawling capital were devoured by flames which the most strenuous efforts could not check.

Central Abbey Town Smashed.

The central tower of the Abbey, known as the lantern, was smashed in and wreckage fell on the spot where England's kings and queens are crowned, but the coronation chairs had been moved to safety in August, 1939.

Other relics, too, were being found safe today amid the wreckage.

Major Vyvyan Adams, a member of parliament, emerged excitedly from the smoky house of commons ruins and reported, "I've found the cabinet over there in what used to be the 'no' lobby. It has in it the signatures of Gladstone and Disraeli. That at any rate is safe."

"The mace is safe, too," said Greenwood. "Luckily, it was taken

DEPUTY TO FUEHRER REPORTED MISSING AFTER PLANE FLIGHT

By The Associated Press.

Rudolf Hess, Adolf Hitler's deputy and No. 2 choice as German fuehrer in the event of Hitler's death, has diseappeared and Berlin radio declared today that Hess had fallen "victim to hallucinations" before he vanished in his own plane last Saturday.

The Nazi radio said that Hess, often called "Hitler's shadow" and second choice only to Air Marshal Hermann Goering as a future head of the reich, took off from Augsburg, Germany, piloting his plane, and that he was believed to have crashed or fallen from the ship in flight.

"Hess left behind a confused letter," said the Nazi party announcement.

"The letter, in its wording, showed clearly traces of mental derangement."

A Berlin announcement said Hess had made the flight against Hitler's instructions and that the deputy's adjutants, accused of knowing Hitler's orders, were to be arrested.

It was not immediately clear whether Hess had been killed.

Diplomatic circles in Vichy, France, reported meanwhile that meetings among Hitler, Premier Mussolini and Russia's Premier Joseph Stalin were considered likely in the near future.

London's millions trudged to work today through acres of fire-blackened ruins in the heart of the empire capital—scarred anew by luftwaffe violence over the week end—but they knew that Germany at last was feeling the sting of a big scale aerial counter offensive.

RAF Armada Active.

An armada of 100 RAF warplanes bombed the ports of Hamburg and Bremen during the night, it was reported, leaving "many large fires" raging in both cities from a rain of Britain's new super bombs.

Other RAF squadrons attacked Emden and raided three points of Nazi-held Holland — Rotterdam, Ijmuiden and a seaplane base on the island of Texel.

In an evident attempt to cripple the RAF's intensified striking power, German planes concentrated the weight of their overnight assaults on night flying bases in Southern, Central and Southeastern England. Nazi quarters in Berlin said many multi-motored planes were believed damaged or destroyed in attacks on RAF airdromes.

Military Airports Attacked.

A German spokesman declared that 20 military airports were attacked by "several hundred" Nazi bombers, with the pilots especiany seeking out flying fields from which RAW long-distance bomoers have set out to attack the reich.

London itself had the lightest night raid in three weeks, but thousands of residents huddled in shelters fearful of another storm such as that which hit the capital Saturday night.

Rescue workers still dug in the wreckage for victims of that all-out attack, which inflicter a toll

CHIANG KAI-SHEK SAYS MATERIAL AID ONLY THING NEEDED

WILL BE ABLE WHIP JAPAN WITHOUT EXPEDITIONARY FORCE OR NAVAL ACTION

CHUNGKING, May 12.—(AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek declared in a speech Saturday night, which was released only this morning that China, without the help of an expeditionary force or naval action, but with material and economic aid, was prepared to undertake single-handed the task of putting down Japan.

He added it was his convition that "any country in the world matching itself against American democracy would meet with certain destruction."

He spoke at a farewell dinner given by Mme. Chiang for United States Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson, who is leaving to become minister to Australia. Many leading figures in China attended.

He declared that the so-called world peace plan advocated April 30 by the Japan Times and Advertiser, which he called "the official mouthpiece" of the Japanese foreign office, showed that "Japan's aggression in China is but preliminary to an attack on America."

The Japanese dream, he declared, was to effect complete nullification of American power in the Pacific.

LOT OF BIG THINGS HAPPENING TO LOT OF LITTLE PEOPLE WHO RESIDE IN LONDON THESE DAYS

By EDDIE GILMORE,

LONDON, May 12.—(AP)—A lot of big things are happening to a lot of little people in London these days and not getting into the papers.

For instance:

The broad-bosomed seller of primroses who was bombed out of her street corner stand several weeks ago set up business across the street. Now bombed out again, she's had to go to still another corner.

"It's this blinking moving about," she sighed, "that bothers a soul. That, and me old man who got a foot blowed off. Blimey, he can't move and here I'm jumping all over London."

Then there's Gina.

Her husband, a naval officer, drowned at sea after they'd been married a few months. She was given a government job.

The other night, clad in dirty slacks and her dead husband's school blazer, she fought fires from midnight to dawn—fought them with her hand and feet until you wondered how she could keep on.

As dawn came over the city she stopped fire watchers and took them into her house, pouring tea and drinks. Wiping her smutty face she lifted her glass to her officer-husband's picture.

"To you, darling," she said very softly.

There is a girl who was born in Germany, now an ambulance driver for Britain.

A demolition worker recited matter-of factly:

"It's a queer business, our's is. We are digging for a little girl and run across an old chap of 80. Alive he was, too."

Little things, of course, but they mean a lot when they happen to you.

SEVERAL GERMAN RAIDERS SHOT DOWN AND BRITISH MORALE STILL UNSHAKEN AFTER LONDON RAID

By DEWITT M'KENZIE

Apart from the ravaging of Westminister Abbey, priceless heritage of the English-speaking family, the record nazi bombing of London developed two highly important but rather oddly assorted facts—(1) Thirty-three enemy planes were destroyed, and (2) the morale of the capital appears to be unimpaired.

The big bag of German craft represents a killing of about ten per cent of the total number of airships employed, which was estimated at between 300 and 400. And this isn't the first time that the British have achieved such a percenage of destruction recently.

Now observers have been waiting for this figure of ten per cent to crop up, because British air authorities have held that when it was reached they would have made night raiding unprofitable for the Hitlerites. Five per cent was reached long ago, but the higher bracket evaded the defenders.

Adequate defense against night bombing is a problem which neither side has solved up to this juncture, and only time will tell whether the present British success is a flash in the pan or the real thing. The improvement would appear to lie in the Royal Air Force fighter planes, since they were mainly responsible for the slaughter. This presumably is due to the fact that more warplanes are available, and that the efficiency of the fighter ships has been improved.

Of course, the heaviest loss to the Germans has not been in the

THE BIG JOB

With the coal mines getting into operation again, can't we Americans really get back on the main job and stay there? Whether it's coal or ore or steel or powder or tanks, or whatever, can't wo go "all out" for Uncle Sam instead of fiddling and fussing and striking and arguing and losing time, just when time is the most valuable thing in the world?

Nothing will save Britain except the kind of teamwork in this country that the British, after long blundering, have attained for themselves. They can and do work together, and do the best they can—which is not enough to save them from destruction. We Americans, with our vast industrial power and raw materials and latent military power, can save them by loyal and intelligent co-operation, and thereby save ourselves and our children measureless grief and loss and trouble.

Now do we all get down to work, and stick to it—or do we let the rest of the world go to hell, and take the chances—which might then be about even — for ourselves?

DEBT

Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce, thinks that by the time we get out of what we've got into, our national debt will probably reach $90,000,000,000. It is now little more than $47,000,000,000, as indicated in the daily reports of the Treasury Department.

Thus our indebtedness, if Mr. Jones is a good guesser, will be nearly twice as great as it is now. And that is a very great deal of money.

Some of us, however, having a streak of optimism woven in with our pessimism, may conclude that we'll be lucky even on that basis. Our national possession, in a reasonable estimate, must be worth five times that much. And if it's any further consolation to us, we may reflect that most of the other nations we usually compare ourselves with are in deeper than that right now, when their liabilities are compared with their assets. Some of them at sheriff's sale might not get a bid.

But here's the gist of the whole matter, observed by Solomon long ago: "All that a man hath will he give for his life." And fortunately in this war, broadly speaking, the combatants are spending money instead of lives.

NAVY ON THE JOB

The more the President explains about our naval patrols, where they are, what they are doing and what they propose to accomplish, the less people understand it. And that, perhaps, is the purpose the Commander-in-Chief of the Navy had in mind when he started his elaborate explanations.

It may be as well for the public to stop inquiring. A democracy naturally wants to know all about everything, but there are times and places when what we don't know won't hurt us—as it might, if our enemies or our friends' enemies got hold of the facts. Presumably the Navy can be counted on, as usual, to take care of our interests.

The only kind of strikes we should have in this country from now on are the strikes "for our altars and our fires."

SLOGAN FOR US ALL.

Things are bad and getting worse.
Luxury's slipping from the Larder!
Here's a slogan to rehearse:
Work a little harder.

Taxes mounting day by day,
'Gainst the threat of dire disaster.
Want to stop it? Here's the way:
Work a little faster.

Gone the happy days of ease!
Winds of care are blowing stronger.
What to do in times like these:
Work a little longer!

Lest the bombs of death shall fall,
Wives and children killing;
Let's be patient, one and all,
Glad to work and willing.

TWO BRILLIANT RETREATS

One of the finest things said about that remarkable retreat of the British expeditionary force from Greece is a statement made by Edward Kennedy, an American correspondent who accompanied them in their long and difficult trek, when they were fighting rearguard actions day and night for nearly two weeks, against overwhelming superior forces, under almost contiuous fire.

"In all the great withdrawal," he says, "I did not see one incident of panic."

Soldiers who retreat as they did live to fight another day, probably under more favorable conditions.

Incidentally young people with a feeling for history should be interested in comparing the British retreat with the retreat of the famous Ten Thousand Greek troops, told about by Xenophon, the first war correspondent, in his "Anabasis." It used to be familiar reading when the Greek language was generally studied in high schools and colleges.

Those 10,000 Greeks, in the year 401 B. C., marched all the way from Greece to Arbela, near Babylon, and attacked a solid army of about a million men, with such impetus that they went clear through and came out the other side. They might have shuttled back and forth till they licked the whole outfit, if Cyrus, their leader, hadn't been killed. As it was, they turned north and made their way, barefoot, over the frozen mountains of Armenia to Trebizond on the Black Sea, and eventually got back home.

WE CAN PRODUCE

A few months ago, when the government was talking of an airplane production program of 30,000 planes a year, the figure was considered visionary. No nation had ever built planes anywhere near so fast as that, even Germany with its years of preparation and its plans to dominate the world. Now the Washington armament planners are talking of 80,000 a year, nearly three times as much.

So far planning spreads and swells as the danger enlarges and presses closer. And so rapid has been the building and multiplication of factories, for all sort of armament, in the last few months, that no cautious expert is likely to say now what the possible production limit may be. When a great manufacturing nation like ours goes "all out" there are no standards for comparison.

In actual production of war stuff and in getting it across the sea where it is bitterly needed, we have very been slow. But the building and tooling of factories has made surprising progress, when the immensity of the job is considered. And the results will soon speak for themselves—if we can stop the sinking of ships and get the stuff across.

In the dictatorship countries, statesmen who make mistakes are shot. In democracies they are merely "sent to Coventry',, but if you read the papers you know what it's like there.

We come now into an unbalanced economy, in which family budgets go down as public budgets go up.

There may be as many ways to convoy ships as there to skin a cat.

COLORFUL PAGEANT PICTURED HISTORY OF NAVARRO COUNTY WITH CAST OF OVER THOUSAND

By CLYDE BICKERSTAFF
Daily Sun Staff

The turbulent but progressive history of Navarro county since its earliest settlement was unreeled in a panoramic sequence of colorful and elaborate episodes at Tiger Field Thursday night as one thousand students of the Corsicana public schools staged one of the most magnificent spectacles ever undertaken in this part of the state.

Entitled "The Voice of Navarro," the semi-patriotic performance moved along with the speed of professional historical dramatizations and was pleasingly reminiscent of the huge calvacades that highlighted and won nationwide acclaim at the memorable Texas Centennial and Pan-American Expositions.

The colorful pageant was so meticulously conceived and prodigiously executed that the imaginations were not overtaxed to comprehend the trend of the performance, reflecting great credit on the faculty members who wrote and supervised the production and still greater credit on the students who carried out their assigned parts with enthusiasm and sincerity.

Large Crowd Attended

An estimated 3,000 people turned out for the occasion, completely filling the West section of the stadium bleachers.

Constituting the stage arrangements was one complete section of the bleachers extracted from the east stands and occupied by an all-school choral group of slightly more than 600 students, mostly from the lower grades. Augmenting this group was the Corsicana high school boys and girls glee club. On the left side of the stage was seated the Corsicana high school band. Topping the entire setting was a huge shield of the United States hung with the six flags under which Texas has been during its eventful history. Red and white bunting completed the decorations which were almost entirely patriotic.

Sylvan Brustein was the pageant announcer, introducing the various episodes, while Darrell Hester, portraying Jose Antonio Navarro, described the occasion for each.

The pageant opened with the first surveyors that entered Navarro county and the following Indian attack and massacre.

This ushered in the first episode that typified the pioneer days in Texas. The scene portrayed men, women and children arriving in Corsicana on foot, by horseback, and in covered wagons. A campfire scene was shown with the chorus in the background singing old campfire songs.

The second episode dealt with Corsicana and Navarro county and the growth of social, political and economic life. At this point the War Between the States flared up and the famed "Navarro Rifles," Navarro county's contribution to the struggle, was shown in the process of organization. The chorus sang immortal Civil War songs, "The Girl I Left Behind Me" and "Dixie." Recognition of the social life in that day was given when a group of high school girls danced the "Virginia Reel."

Civil War Period

Episode three brought Corsicana and Navarro county from the Civil War period up to the "Gay Nineties." This transition period marked rapid progress, including a substantial growth in population and the building of many schools, churches and industries. This gay portrayal was concluded with one of the typical post-Civil War negro minstrels.

The fourth Episode was devoted to the part Corsicana and Navarro county played in the first World War. At the conclusion of the narrator's remarks that "again local patriotism matched that of the nation and we saw, as we now see again, our boys march off to war," several members of the local American Legion Post, in full uniform, marched onto the field and after presenting arms, fired three volleys in honor of the memorable affair. Meanwhile the Chorus sang the famous World War tunes, "Tipperary," "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and "Over There."

In the last Episode, tribute was paid the well-equipped Corsicana school system with the narrator's assertions that "we find in them many racial elements, but to all of them the opportunity is the same." Folk songs and dances from many nations were then staged by the students.

Grand Finale

The entire group then assembled for the grand finale, demonstrating various athletic and educational subjects offered in the schools. The narrator concluded the precedent-breaking spectacle with the pointed remarks "In all the world today I can see no more beautiful picture than the picture of free America x x x as we come to the finale of this program x x x let us resolve to be true to the heritage that is ours from the past and to the challenge that is the future."

The audience stood while the chorus and the pageant performers sang the Corsicana high school song, "All Hail, Corsicana," and the national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner."

Miss Lena Mae McClure was general chairman of the pageant and directed the all-school chorus. Accompanists at the piano were Misses Margaret Pannill, Erma Weidmann, Margaret Metcalf, Patsy Ruth Ramsey, and June Fauber. The script was by R. A. Armistead, high school history teacher. W. H. Norwood, superintendent of schools, acted in the capacity of advisor.

Special recognition was given the various business firms aiding in the production, including the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce and other business and civic organizations.

An unusually beautiful devotional was given by Miss Alene Ivey. The interesting program which followed was presented by members of the YWA, Miss Ivey, Miss Elsie Ruth Goines, Miss LaVerne Crawford and Miss Hortense Simmons.

During the social hour members and their guests were served dainty sandwiches, cookies and iced tea.

LAST COMPANY OF BATTALION AREA OF GUARD INDUCTED

BATTALION HEADQUARTERS IN CORSICANA FIRST TO BE FULLY INSPECTED

Inspection and induction of the fourth and last company of the Texas Defense Guard in this battalion area were completed Thursday night at Athens when Company B of that city was officially mustered into service Major Henry E. Roberts of the adjutant general department and Major Festus A. Pierce, Corsicana, battalion commander, conducted the inspection.

Major Pierce announced Friday morning that advices from the adjutant general's department verifies the fact that the thirty-seventh battalion which is composed of Corsicana, Kerens, Palestine and Athens is the first complete battalion to be officially inducted into state service. Corsicana Company A was the first unit to receive similar recognition.

At the inspection Monday night, Corsicana had a full quota of 75 enlisted men with 71 present. Several are on the waiting list. Inspection of the Kerens unit Tuesday night revealed that 63 men are enlisted and 53 were present for the ceremonies. Palestine was inducted Wednesday night with a full complement of 75 enlisted men. Seventy-four were on hand for the ceremonies of induction. The Athens unit has 67 enlisted men with 63 present for induction last night.

Major Pierce commended the city of Kerens for supporting a Home Defense Guard. He said Kerens was one of the smallest towns in the state to support a National Guard unit. Now, he said, it is heartily supporting a Home Defense Guard unit.

Palestine can be recognized for the having the large number present for the state inspection, Major Pierce continued, while Athens can be commended on its pertect set of records.

He said that the battalion staff has been inducted and is complete with the exception of a dental officer who will be appointed shortly.

Uniforms for the Guardsmen have been purchased by the city and county governments, he said. Officers secure their own uniforms, he added. No member of the Texas Defense Guard will be paid for service, Major Pierce pointed out.

He said the units are at the disposal of the governor in the event of a disturbance in this area, and will also co-operate with city and county peace officers.

He stated that the bill provided the salaries of the county auditors of Texas be set by the district judges to do away with numerous special laws in force at the present time. The news stories said it was a law for Navarro county only. The Navarro county auditors salary is set by general law and not by a special law.

INFORMATION ABOUT RABIES FURNISHED BY HEALTH OFFICER

AUSTIN, May 9.—(Special).—Reports from the Pasteur Institute of the Texas state department of health indicate that positive examinations of animals for rabies (hydrophobia) during the first four months of 1941 were statistically less than for the same period for the past two years, according to Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

The Pasteur Institute reports that 164 animals have been shown to have had rabies since the first of the year, out of 474 examinations. During 1940, 1,488 examinations were made, revealing 394 positive cases of rabies in animals and 1,094 negative. This was a decrease from 1939's cumulative 1,975 cases, of which 583 were found to be positive and 1,392 negative.

Rabies in man is rare but highly fatal unless Pasteur treatment is promptly instituted. It is significant that one death in 1939 and one death in 1940 were reported from rabies in Texas, so successful was the Pasteur treatment in the cases of persons bitten by the rabid animals.

Rabies in man usually results from the bite of infected dogs, though rabies may be spread by calves, sheep, squirrels, skunks, and horses. As a precaution against the spread of rabies, Dr. Cox advised penning up all dogs suspected of having rabies and keeping the animals under observation for at least ten days, but not destroying the animal. This holds true for other animals similarly suspected of rabies.

If a dog dies within the observation period, arrangements should be made to send the head of the animal to the Pasteur Institute, Austin, Texas, for rabies examination. The family physician or local health officer can make arrangements for shipping the head of the animal.

"Promptly after rabies has been established in animals, persons who have been bitten should begin treatment to prevent development of symptoms. Treatment should be begun before laboratory examination has been made in case a person has been bitten in the face or on the hands, or has received extensive wounds," Dr. Cox advises.

THE WAR TODAY

machines, but in the airmen, whose training is long and arduous. The British claim that during the first nine days of the speeded up air conflict this month the enemy have suffered about 350 and 400 casualties—a grave loss to the nazi airforce.

It is doubtful whether nazidom could have done anything which would have infuriated Britons more than to bomb their Valhalla—Westminster Abbey. Their determination was being registered for them today by Big Ben, which also was bombed in its lofty tower near the Abbey, for the great clock kept on ticking and telling the hour, although its world-famous chimes were stilled.

As regards the Saturday night attack on London, one can say that any world-war veteran will tell you he wouldn't want to be in the boots of the nazi airman who loosed the bomb which drove through the roof of Westminster Abbey. Man, but that's asking for bad luck.

Why, the Germans lost the World war just because of a similar slip Every soldier who knew of the affair can vouch for that. It was like this:

Atop the spire of the church in the town of Albert, in the valley of the winding Somme, stood a heroic statue of the Virgin with the Holy Child in arms. The figure was gilded, and we could see it for miles when the sun glinted against the gold.

Fighting raged back and forth across unhappy Albert until it was laid in dust. But in the midst of all this devastation the old church still held its own. The tradition grew up that the side which shot down the Golden Virgin would lose the war. It became a by-word with the troops, and gunners tried to avoid the church, although stray shells damaged the base of the statue until it leaned far forward.

During the terrible fighting along the Somme in the spring of 1918 some German artillerymen fired a shot which sent the golden figure to the ground. All the fighting men knew that this would cost the Germans the war, and the end came very soon.

STRIKES

at Washington upholding a labor relations board order that the employes representation plan of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation was company-dominated and must be disestablished.

Not Unprejudiced.

The CIO steel workers organization committee struck at Bethlehem plants in March in protest against ERP elections and the strike settlement provided that no action would be taken on selection of an exclusive bargaining agent until the court ruled on the appeal from the NLRB order.

Representative Woodruff (Rep.) of Michigan, issued in Washington a statement charging that "two officials on the payroll of the CIO" who are members of the defense mediation board "obviously cannot be unprejudiced, dispassionate and disinterested in the outcome of any negotiations in which their own parent organization is a party at interest."

A strike of more than 200 members of an AFL union against the Smoot Sand and Gravel Company at Washington threatened to tie up nearly all construction in the nation's capital as the company supplies most of the materials used in concrete there. President William Green of the AFL and the national defense mediation board had requested the men not to strike.

The men asked a general shortening of their work week, and a wage increase of five per cent, union officials said, but neither the union nor company gave out details as to present wages or hours of work.

"Outlawed Strike"

In the meanwhile William Green, president of the AFL asserted in Patterson, N. J., yesterday that a walkout of union Machinists in San Francisco shipyards was an "outlawed strike" and that the AFL was "appealing to the unions there to rescind their strike action."

The walkout involves defense contract estimated by the workers at $500,000,000. Green said it violated a union-management agreement prohibiting either strikes or walkouts. The strikers want $1.15 an hour instead of $1.12, plus continuance of double pay for overtime. Union leaders in San Francisco said their picket lines would keep 15,000 to 20,000 men away from work.

The navy department disclosed that in the San Francisco Bay area there were twenty-seven destroyers, four cruisers and forty-three auxiliary vessels under construction. The department did not say how many were affected by the strike, which involves eleven yards. Chairman Truman (Dem.) of Missouri, of a special Senate committee investigating the conduct of the defense program said the strike would be before the committee today.

Southern Coal Situation.

Southern coal mine operators, still at odds with CIO's United Mine Workers of America over a new wage contract, agreed to meet union leaders at New York for new negotiations. The mines are operating under a temporary agreement which increased the Southern wage scale from $5.60 to $6.60 a day. The union still demands $7, which northern mine operators already have agreed to pay.

The New Mexico federation of labor (AFL) prepared today for a court test of the state police ban on picketing of the army's huge construction project at Fort Wingate ordinance depot.

Charging that the prohibition was illegal, Roy Pearce, president, announced the federation would seek an injunction "to protect the legal rights of its members."

The federation called a strike of its members on the $9,000,000 project Saturday. Pickets were withdrawn after state police threatened immediate arrests.

New Contract Signed.

NEW YORK, May 12.—(AP)—The Associated Press and the Commercial Telegraphers' Union, an A. F. of L. affiliate, today signed a new contract to replace the one expiring May 15. The new agreement is for a two-year period and provides for increases in the wage scales covering approximately 600 traffic employes.

Registered Hereford Selected For Award

A registered Hereford heifer has been selected from the J. N. Edens herd and will be awarded next fall at the annual Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show to some boy in the seven-county area around the city.

The selection was made by a committee composed of Ralph Stell, County Agent Joe Richards of Fairfield, and Roy Cloud and R. L. Barron, vocational teachers at Kerens and Corsicana. The heifer will be conditioned by Mr. Edens for delivery. The winner will be chosen from the number now conducting calf-feeding project, and the award will be made on the basis of the best work done and not necessarily to the boy having the finest calf, according to Assistant County Agent A. P. Bralley, who said the type of animal, amount of feed, and other equipment would be considered. The heifer is valued at approximately $500.

Dr. Merton Minter Fort Worth Speaker

FORT WORTH, May 10.—(AP)—The American people in general eat plenty of food, but are woefully careless about eating the proper kind, Dr. Merton Minter, of San Antonio, asserted here today before the Texas Society of Medical Technologists' annual convention.

His discussion was the first on a three-day program was made before about 150 laboratory technicians and medical experts who are convening here this year as a prelude to the Texas State Medical Association convention which opens Monday.

Emergencies Might Arise

The idea linked with the house recess plan was that international coditions might spawn national and state emergencieee which would need the attention of the legislature a few weeks hence.

Then too, the lawmakers upon their return to the capitol could review any vetoes made by the governor in the recess interim and the senate possibly would have an opportunity to consider confirmation or rejection of recess appointees by the executive.

Another suggestion heard in capitol corridors was that legislators would like to learn the governor's intentions regarding the United States senatorial race before they adjourn sine die.

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel told them in a recent message their disposition of a five-point program he recommended would bear importantly on his senate race decision.

He shed no new light on this situation in yesterday's radio broadcast which emanated from the house of representatives chamber instead of the mansion.

In a program dedicated to Mother's Day, the governor said the legislature's enactment of new taxes which will add to social security revenues was a "substantial trfibute" to mothers.

OPEN HOUSE P. AND S. HOSPITAL DREW LARGE ATTENDANCE SUNDAY

IMPROVEMENTS VIEWED AS FEATURE OF NATIONAL HOSPITAL DAY OBSERVANCE

A large number of Corsicana and Navarro county citizens turned out for the open house observance at the P. and S. hospital Sunday afternoon where they were shown the new annex housing, including X-ray equipment, nursery, maternity wards and other facilities.

The visitors, who began arriving Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, also inspected the NYA girls residence center located across the street from the main hospital building. Refreshments were served there by the NYA girls.

During the inspection tour of the hospital much attention was focused on the glass-paneled nursery where a tiny three-pound, two ounce baby, born only Sunday morning had been placed in an incubator.

The new X-Ray equipment purchased only recently by the hospital board, was another item of particular interest among the spectators. The demonstrations conducted permitted the visitors to place their hands under the X-Ray and obtain a clear view of the bone structure.

Among other places of interest were the operating room with its special lighting and air conditioning system, the venereal clinic, nurses' quarters and hospital kitchen as well as the regular wards and private rooms which are equipped with Venetian blinds, inlaid linoleum and other modern features.

The open house was held in connection with National Hospital Day which is being celebrated throughout the nation today. The affair was held Sunday in order that everyone desiring could attend.

Navarro County girls employed at the residence center directed the visitors through the NYA house while members of the hospital board, Navarro county Commissioner's court and personnel of the hospital conducted the inspection at the Hospital.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Jones Ranch Club.

After storing cured pork in cotton seed oil the last two years, Mrs. P. E. Brinson of the Jones Ranch Home Demonstration Club told members there was no other method that would beat it at a meeting of the club in the home of Mrs. L. M. Hoover, May 7.

She stressed the economy of the method of saying when the meat was taken from the oil there were no hard edges to be cut away, the oil was free from rancidity and could be used for cooking purposes.

After the meat is well cured Mrs. Brinson cuts it into strips or pieces that will fit snugly into large earthern churns. She fits the pieces closely together into the containers and then covers them with fresh or refined cotton seed oil.

Mrs. Henry Miles bedroom demonstrator for the club gave the group several rules on buying sheeting.

Ona Bell Ramage, chairman of the expansion committee, asked the members to share their knowledge with others by teaching one person at least one thing they have learned in club work during the year.

Mrs. A. A. Armstrong had charge of the recreation.

The hostess served punch and cake to seventeen members and Mrs. J. W. Rawlins a guest. Mrs. Harvey Smith was enrolled as a new member.—Reporter.

HEALTH, BEAUTY AND POISE

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR PERSONALITY
By VERONICA DENGEL

NATURAL BEAUTY

Laraine Day (MGM feature player now appearing in "The People vs. Dr. Kildare") is certainly the epitome of everything that we look for and hope to find in the modern young girl of today. Fresh clear skin, shining eyes, beautifully brushed and cared for hair, a lovely, firm, perfectly proportioned figure, gleaming teeth—all the things that point to good health, intelligent care, and Nature's blessings.

Don't try to improve natural beauty

On the other hand, many girls are blessed with natural beauty and go haywire trying to improve on it. There is nothing more wonderful than natural beauty. If your hair is dark, let it be—don't try to be a blonde; if your skin is clear and white don't try to effect a change to the Latin type by using that hideous dark powder that some girls use. If your eyebrows are nice—don't ruin them by plucking them to a thin, exaggerated arch. If your hair has a soft natural wave—don't spoil it by setting it into stiff curls or crazy hair-dos.

Notice Laraine's eyebrows—never should a brow be narrower than this. With her well mounded face a high neckline is good—and good, also, for those with oval or long faces—sometimes good for the square face—but never to be used by the full round face type. Attention to this detail will help much in the general effect and success of your dress.

GRADUATING CLASS IOOF HOME SCHOOL HONORED IN SERMON

REV. G. A. MACINNES DELIVERED SERMON AS FIRST OF GRADUATING EXERCISES

Baccalaureate services for the graduating class of the IOOF Home high school were held in the main auditorium Sunday morning with Rev. Gordon A. MacInnes, pastor of the Third Avenue Presbyterian church, delivering the sermon.

Members of the class, accompanied by officials and teachers of the Home, took their place in the section reserved for them as the choir sang "Holy, Holy, Holy" as the processional.

Rev. Mr. MacInnes compared life to a race and urged the members to set life eternal as their goal. Numerous illustrations from life and from the Bible were used by the minister to bring more clearly to the minds of the class members points in his sermon.

"The preparation" he said "is much longer than the race." "An athlete prepares weeks and sometimes months just to run a hundred yard dash that only takes seconds, or a slightly longer race that is run in a minute or two," he declared, and added "that it sometimes takes a long preparation to run the race of life." In illustration of this point the minister said that Jesus Christ was thirty years preparing for a brief three year ministry, Moses 80 years for his 40 years of service, Joshua 100 years for his work.

Rev. Mr. MacInnes urged the students to shed all excess weights in preparation for the race of life. "There are many things in life that are not downright sin" he declared, "but they are weights that hold you back, that exhaust you, that divert you from the path to your goal," he added. Among the weights mentioned by the minister were greed, selfishness, anger and others.

"Living a Christian life is no 'sissy' job," the Rev. Mr. MacInnes declared hith emphasis and challenged the class to live a true Christian life looking ever ot Jesus the author and finisher of life.

The program prepared for the occasion included in the musical selections "Faith of Our Fathers" sung by the congregation, "Holy, Holy, Holy' by the choir both as the recessional and processional, and "Praise Be Thine" by the choir.

The invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. Mr. MacInnes.

In the Far East, Japanese nervousness over the possibility that the United States might enter the war was reflected in a sharp drop in Tokyo stocks.

At the same time, Japanese Foreign Minister Yusuke Matsuoka, back in Japan after diplomatic junkets to Berlin, Rome and Moscow, conferred with Emperor Hirohito for more than two hours. Domei, Japanese news agency, said the talk centered on foreign affairs, including the "China affair."

Japanese newspapers have recently suggested that the long-drawn hostilities in China be ended, but only last night China's generalissimo, Ching Kai-Shek, said in a fighting speech that China, with material and economic aid, was prepared to defeat Japan single-handed—without the help of an expeditionary force or naval action.

Japanese military authorities in Shanghai reported their troops were closing in on Chinese forces in Southwest Shansi province after a battle in which 15,000 Chinese were killed and 8,000 captured.

erican harbors totaling 450,000 gross tons. He said that these ships could be acquired in any one of four ways:

1. By purchase.
2. By requisition. Under this plan the ships would be requisitioned for "the duration of the emergency" with a view to their return to their owners later on.
3. By taking title. Bailey said this probably would be done through condemnation proceedings.
4. By charter. This, Bailey said would amount "to hiring a boat for any period in which it was needed." The procedure would not involve compulsion.

Secretary Hull advised today against restrictions on the use of foreign ships that may be taken over by the government, but administration opponents renewed their demands that the pending ship requisition bill be altered to ban the outright transfer of seized axis vessels to Britain.

Hull set forth his views in a letter made public by the Senate commerce committee which is nearing the end of its study of the House approved ship requisition measure.

"The department of state," he wrote, "feels it would be unwise to place a restrictive or prohibitory provision in the proposed legislation."

Any restriction, Hull added, would tend to place vessels acquired under the legislation "in a different category from other vessels now under the American flag."

Testimony before a closed committee session last week, made public today by committeemen, showed Chairman Emory S. Land of the maritime commission also had urged "wide open legislation with no strings whatsoever."

Nevertheless, Senator Clark (Dem.) of Missouri, a committee member, said he would propose an amendment, previously defeated in the House, to prevent the administration from turning over German and Italian vessels to Great Britain."

Senator Vandenberg (Rep.) of Michigan, said he would support the pending legislation if the Clark amendment were written in by the committee. He reiterated that it would be "completely provocative of war" for a neutral to seize the ships of one belligerent and turn them over to another.

The senate failed also to set for special order Wednesday a house joint resolution submitting a constitutional amendment parmitting women to serve on Texas juries.

A family reunion is held on Mothers' Day each year at the home of one of Mr. and Mrs. Coker's children. This year nearly 50 children, grandchildren and friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. Coker have ten children, all of whom were present with their husbands and wives, 30 grandchildren, only two of whom were not present, and one great-grandchild.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Edgar T. Coker, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Dill, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Westley Coker, Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Coker, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Coker, Mr. and Mrs. Vestal Coker, Mrs. Carrie Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Bower and all their children except J. T. Cooper and Vernon Bower, and several friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Coker had the pleasure of seeing all of their children together for the first time in several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Coker also had the pelasure of having all except two of their grandchildren together for the first time. For some very young grandchildren this was their first meeting. The little one-year old Jerry Nell Bower saw many of her cousins for the first time.

Under a large tree, several tables ware arranged to form one table large enough for all to gather around, and a dinner of many varieties was served and enjoyed very much by all, especially Mr. Coker, as he has recently recovered from a serious illness that lasted several weeys.

After dinner several snapshots were taken of groups and some of the younger children.

A good time was had by all and in leaving everyone expressed the wish that all would be able to attend the reunion of the Coker family next year.—Contributed.

GOVERNMENT WHEAT LOAN RATE MAY BE EIGHTY-FIVE CENTS

SUCH RATE WOULD COMPARE WITH SIXTY-SIX CENTS DURING PAST YEAR

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(AP)—Authoritative sources said today the agriculture department would announce this week a government loan rate of "about 85 cents" a bushel for the 1941 wheat crop.

Such a rate would compare with 66 cents for the 1940 crop. Both figures are averages. Differentials are provided for various grades and locations with references to terminal markets.

The 85-cent date would be 75 per cent of the parity price for wheat. (Parity is a term used to describe a price which would give a farm product purchasing power equal to that which it had in the base period, 1909-14.)

The 1940 rate was 57 per cent of parity.

Agriculture department officials said that a loan rate of 85 cents would assure farmers who co-operated with the AAA crop programs at least $1.04 for this year's wheat. Benefit payments of 19 cents a bushel will be distributed among the co-operators.

Coupled with the loan announcement would be a notice establishing the national 1942 wheat planting goal at 55,000,000 acres, the minimum allowed under the present law. The 1941 allotment was 62,500,000 acres.

to another room in the building and this was untouched."

Prime Minister Churchill's rooms were untouched, as were most of those of the cabinet ministers.

Tomb of Unknown Undamaged.

The bulk of the documents in the vote office, too, were saved, but many papers were smudged and smeared.

The tomb of the unknown soldier near the west door of Westminister Abbey also escaped damage.

Rescue parties still were working today at a hotel hit by a heavy bomb which exploded in the basement where 140 persons had taken refuge. Several bodies had been recovered. The hotel is uninhabitable.

The steely anger of Britons was expressed by the Rev. Jocelyn Henry Temple Perkins, sacrist and minor canon of Westminister Abbey, when he turned from his prayers with the bitter declaration:

"I can imagine the storm of anger that will sweep over our dominions and America when the news of this latest exhibition of aryan culture reaches them. The story...Is one which will stamp Hitler for all time."

Churchill Shelter Wrecked.

LONDON, May 12.—(AP)—Under a welter of smashed stones and bricks, salvagers discovered today that the air raid shelter where Prime Minister Winston Churchill and his cabinet colleagues refuged when Nazi fliers threatened them at the house commons had been wrecked in the German attack on parliament buildings Saturday night.

The shelter where the members gathered during raids stood up to the test. Among the losses somewhere in the debris are the oak doors of commons, the speaker's chair and the government dispatch boxes.

MIDDLE EAST

at Rutba after a bombing raid and attack by armored cars Sunday morning came after a week-end of conflicting claims over operations in that region guarding the Mosul-Haifa oil line.

Iraq communiques had been quoted earlier as claiming the British attacking forces were driven back to the westward, toward Transjordan.

The British, who announced the capture last week of the airfield at Rutba, said that with British occupation of the fort" the whole of this important area is now under our complete control."

Claimed British Repulsed.

BEIRUT, Lebanon, May 12—(AP)—The Iraq general staff declared today British armored forces were repulsed in violent fighting around the fort of Rutba.

The British were said to have lost two of their armored cars in the attack, and a British plane, caught in machine-gun fire from the ground, was reported shot down in flames.

Russia Recognizes Iraq.

MOSCOW, May 12.—(AP)— Soviet Russia has established diplomatic relations with the government of Iraq, Tass, official Russian news agency, reported today.

The step followed Iraq withdrawal of a request that such recognition be coupled with a declaration of recognition of other Arabian countries, Tass said, a request with which the Russian government asserted it was unable to comply.

The foreign office issued a communique announcing establishment of relations between the two countries for the first time.

The Soviet press still is withholding comment on the British-Iraq conflict and publishing only brief dispatches, mostly crediting foreign news agencies, about fighting there.

Help from Ethiopia.

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, May 8.—(Delayed).—(AP)—Haile Selassie declared today he intended to release British forces from their task of reconquering Ethiopia from Italy and aid them in their defense elsewhere against "cruel attacks."

In a message to President Roosevelt and the people of the United States on the occasion of his return to his capital, he declared "it was fitting that the first victim of axis greed should be the first to be delivered."

Since "the unprovoked aggression of 1935 proved to be the forerunner of all later aggressions," he said, he prayed that "it's atonement" may prove to be the beginning of disaster for all aggressors.

John Sands, superintendent of the Richland schools, appeared before the court and discussed some details in connection with the proposed bond election at which it is hoped to issue $22,000 in bonds to be supplemented by a WPA appropriation for a new school building and gymnasium. Some tax matters were also submitted to the court.
